

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Thomas Vo, and I came across your Software Developer position at Gemini and would like to submit my resume for your consideration. The position at Gemini interests me as I am voraciously excited to learn more about the processes on implementing more sustainable code in large code bases. Throughout my studies and internships, I have always been passionate about algorithms and it's implications in a business environment.

Your company's mission statement to ask for permission, not forgiveness aligns with my personal values of doing actions that is alignment with everyone else's values. It would be personally gratifying to work for Gemini as I have always been curious about crypto.

I believe I would be a good fit for Gemini because of my experience with both front-end and backend languages; I have been studying the tools to become a more robust fullstack software engineer. I am looking for a company like yours where I can learn and grow with the company and apply my excellent skills in code building and scalable implementations which I developed through various personal projects and experiments.

I also find that your work culture of letting workers grow and pace themselves resonates with me and my personality, and is exactly what I am looking for from a company. I'm excited about the opportunity to contribute to your company while furthering my understanding of the software development process. Thank you so much for your consideration and I hope to hear back from you soon!

Sincerely,
Thomas Vo
